BRITISH AMBASSADOR PRESENT AT TREASON TRIAL IN MOSCOW

LORD CHILSTON HEARS EVIDENCE

"Agreement With England To Overthrow Soviet Union",—Bukharin

Moscow, March 3.
THE TRIAL OF SEVENTEEN PROMINENT Soviet leaders and four of the leading doctors in the Kremlin on charges of treason was continued today in the famous gilded ballroom of the Noblemen's Club of Tsarist days.

THE BRITISH AMBASSADOR IN MOSCOW, Lord Chilston, was present today during the testimony of Ivanov, former Commissar of the Timber Industry.

IVANOV, GIVING EVIDENCE, asserted that in 1932, Bukharin, ex-editor of the Izvestia and former President of the Comintern, instructed him (Ivanov) to make contact with the British Intelligence Service.

Bukharin was alleged to have said: "We have an agreement with England to overthrow the Soviet regime."

"We sold millions worth of timber to England at low prices in order to retain their support," said Ivanov.—(Reuter).

The indictment read at the opening of the trial on Wednesday alleged that on the instructions of a hostile foreign State, the accused organised a group of plotters to overthrow the Socialist State and also attempted to dismember the Soviet Union by detaching Ukraine, Georgia, and Armenia maritime provinces and other territories.

The indictment accuses Trotsky, Rosenholtz and Rakovsky of being members of the British Intelligence Service and the German Secret Service, and Rakovsky is also accused of being a Japanese spy.

Amongst the 21 accused are Yagoda, former head of the secret police, Bukharin, ex-editor of the Izvestia and former president of the Comintern, Rakovsky, president of the Council of People's Commissars for the Ukraine, Grinko, Commissar of Finance, Krestinsky, assistant Commissar of Foreign Affairs, Rosenholtz, Commissar of Foreign Trade and Rykov, Lenin's successor as Premier of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

PROGRESS IN ANGLO-IRISH PARLEYS

London, Mar. 3.
Anglo-Irish negotiations were continued this morning. Besides the Premier, Mr. Chamberlain, and Mr. Eamon de Valera, Eire Premier, there were also present Mr. Malcolm MacDonald, Secretary for the Dominions, the Minister for Agriculture and several British economic experts.

Further progress was made in preparing the proposed trade agreement.

After the meeting, the Premier and Mr. MacDonald received Mr. de Valera at the House of Commons.

After the results achieved today, it is said that there is a possibility of the Irish delegation returning to Dublin on Friday.—(Transocean).

PLANE CRASH IN WHANGPOO

TWO JAPANESE KILLED

Shanghai, Mar. 3.
A Japanese bomber, evidently returning from a raid, crashed into the Whangpoo river yesterday evening, with the loss, it is believed, of two out of the three members of the crew.

The story of the crash was published in this morning's issue of the North China Daily News which obtained an eye-witness account from a Briton living in the Yangtszepoo area.

Foreign observers believe that the pilot was wounded and finally overcome in sight of "home" or in the darkness misjudged when landing at Points Island and crashed into the river. The bomber is believed to be a total loss.

Dozens of people on the Bund saw searchlights played on the river by Japanese warships, including the Idumo, but what actually is happening on the river cannot be seen from the Bund.

The Briton said he saw one, out of what appeared, from their navigation lights to be six aeroplanes, crash into the Whangpoo just before the riverside plant of the Shanghai Power Company.

Fast motor launches, he said, put out from the wharf by the Japan-

The Daily Press Is In Disgrace

The Daily Press is in disgrace! We have printed something not fit to read. At least that is what the Japanese authorities think.

On December 29 we despatched a copy of the Daily Press to the Industry Bureau, Archives and Library, South Manchurian Railway, Dairen, Manchukuo.

Yesterday we were informed by the Superintendent of Mails in Hong Kong that the paper had been confiscated in Nagasaki.

Why, we have not been told.

Perhaps the Japanese censors might not have liked to read of the marked superiority of Chinese aviators over the Japanese or that the Japanese version of the Panay incident had not been accepted in America.

Maybe they realised that Japan's professions of friendship for China were hardly borne out by the picture of three Chinese civilians and a policeman lying dead outside the American Embassy in Nanjing, executed by the Japanese for being out after dark.

On the other hand, of course, the censors may have found the Daily Press such valuable reading that they could not bear to part with it.

Weird and wonderful are the workings of the Japanese mind but some day in the dim and distant future it may come to understand that no matter what efforts are made to suppress the facts, truth will always out.

ese Consulate and hastened to the spot. They searched the surface of the river over a wide area before returning.

Meanwhile, at the riverside plant, one of the aviators managed to struggle ashore.

The other planes in the meantime continued on their way and apparently reached their base without incident.—(Reuter).

Seven cases of measles, four of dysentery and one each of enteric fever and cerebro-spinal fever were also notified to the authorities.

JAPAN AND FOREIGN TRADE

Three Courses Of Action

Tokyo, Mar. 3.
Three courses of action to promote Japan's foreign trade was decided upon at a conference yesterday of leading officials of the Ministries concerned and the National Planning Board.

Efforts will be made by the Government to conclude reciprocal treaties in order to obtain new markets.

Through diplomatic channels attempts will be made to turn the balance of trade in favour of Japan in case adverse balances with some countries continue. The Government is devoting special attention to the importation of raw cotton wool which will be used for the manufacturing of the principal export products.—(Reuter).

FAQUIR IPPI SOUGHT

TRIBE WARNED BY GOVERNMENT

New Delhi, Mar. 3.
The Government of India is renewing its efforts for the arrest of Faquir Ippi, who was instrumental in stirring up the disturbances in Waziristan recently.

The Government has issued a serious warning to the tribe on the north-west frontier accused of harbouring Faquir Ippi stating that action will be taken unless the tribe give him up or stand security for his future behaviour.—(Reuter Bulletin).

MATSUI ON THE AIR

APPEALS FOR HELP

Tokyo, Mar. 3.
Broadcasting his home-coming speech to the nation last night General Matsui, former Commander-in-Chief of Japanese forces in Central China, said that credit for Japanese victories in Central China were not due to him but to "every officer and private of the Japanese Army on the battlefield."

General Matsui expressed appreciation of the "effective and solid co-operation" of the Imperial Navy in carrying out large-scale military operations, mentioning in particular the efficient transportation and landing of forces from Japan to China.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's administration is getting weaker and is "being undermined," General Matsui said. He predicted that General Chiang would not give up his resistance to Japan.

He paid a glowing tribute to Japanese officers and men on the China fronts and appealed to the nation to extend "helping hands" to families of soldiers in action.—(Reuter).

IMPORTANT CHANGES IN CHINESE COMMANDS

Latest Developments

Shanghai, March 3.
Latest developments on the various fronts have resulted in the bringing about of important changes among officers in command and also in the distribution of the Chinese, it is learned here today.

In order to guard against the possibility of the Japanese making a drive into the north-west or a push southward towards Hankow through the Hangchung area near the Honan-Shensi border, General Lu Tseng-nan, commander of the First Army Corps, who is recognised in many quarters as one of China's ablest commanders, has been ordered to concentrate his troops in the Hangchung area.

The First Army Corps, comprising six divisions, is the backbone of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's Army, and without doubt is the best fighting unit in the country.

In addition to his own six divisions ten other divisions have also been placed under the command of General Lu Tseng-nan and it is estimated that at least 18 battalions are now concentrated in the Hangchung area.

General Li Tsung-jen, commander-in-chief of the Chinese Forces on the Tientsin-Pukow Railway front is himself directing operations at Hsuechow, his crack Kwangsi divisions being concentrated west of the Tientsin-Pukow Railway in the vicinity of Luan.

Four Kwangsi divisions, noted for their bravery and discipline, are stationed at Luan under the command of General Li Ping-hsien, to guard against the possibility of a Japanese drive towards Hotel, or Luchow, in Central Anhwei.

General Tang En-po, commander of the Fourth Army Corps, who won fame as the defender of the Nankou Pass, has completed the reorganisation of his forces.

General Tang, it is reliably learned, will be given virtual command of the Chinese forces on the Peiping-Hankow Railway although General Chen Chien will retain his nominal post as commander-in-chief.—(Reuter).

Two Police Officers Feted By Colleagues

Members and friends of the Police Recreation Club assembled at a dinner held last night in honour of Messrs. John Murphy and Robert Shannon, two well-known and respected members of the Hong Kong Police Force who are shortly leaving for Home on retirement.

The Commissioner of Police, Hon. Mr. T. H. King, presided and amongst those present were Messrs. J. A. Fraser, J. Whyatt, W. Schofield, M. J. Abbott, C. G. Perdue, L. H. C. Calthorpe, W. la Bart Sparrow and K. M. A. Barnett.

After the Loyal Toast had been honoured Mr. King addressed the gathering and paid a glowing tribute to the excellent services rendered to the Force by the two members who were about to leave them. They had had over 25 years of the Police and were leaving behind records of which any man might justifiably be proud.

Messrs. Murphy and Shannon replied briefly and the speakers of the evening included Messrs. Schofield, Carey, Whyatt and Fraser.

Messrs. Murphy and Shannon were each presented with a radio set and Mr. King said he hoped they would "tune in on old 2BW" now and again to keep in touch with Hong Kong.

"A WEALTH of HEALTH"

"I mean to express with all my heart that your Kalzana has given wonderful results in my little girl, who was ailing for some time."

writes a grateful mother.

If your Child is ailing then give it Kalzana

If any of your children are delicate and irritable, suffer from delayed teething and weak bones, it is more than probable that a lack of minerals is the cause of the trouble.

Give your children Kalzana tablets or powder for a few weeks and you will soon see the difference in their health. It strengthens the cells of blood, body and nerves, increases the power of resistance and makes bones strong, and teeth white and healthy.

Give Kalzana to the grown-up members of your family, and they, too, will enjoy continual good health.

FLOWER SHOW SUCCESS

LADY NORTHCOTE'S INTEREST IN GARDENING

EXCELLENT EXHIBITS IN SPITE OF POOR WEATHER CONDITIONS

The annual flower show of the Hong Kong Horticultural Society, was held at St. John's Place, Garden Road, yesterday. His Excellency the Governor, Sir Geoffrey Northcote, distributing the prizes. In the absence of Lady Northcote, President of the Society, Mr. Ho Kom-tong presided.

Though there was a slight decrease in the number of entries compared with previous years, competition was very keen.

Lady Margaret Ho Tung, being the most successful competitor, was the winner of the Banksian Award, whilst Mr. J. T. Bagram, the popular and energetic Honorary Secretary, carried off the Lady Northcote Challenge Bowl for having done the most to promote or improve horticulture in the Colony.

With an attractive display of dahlias, His Excellency also came in for his share of the honours and won the Challenge Cup for the plants in pots (Open) Section.

CHAIRMAN'S SPEECH

At the conclusion of the afternoon, Mr. Ho Kom-tong, in calling upon His Excellency to distribute the prizes, said:—

We are very much honoured by the presence of His Excellency the Governor among us this afternoon. Both His Excellency and Lady Northcote, take great interest in this Society and the fact that His Excellency finds time among his many duties to come and distribute the prizes, shows how keen that interest is. It is therefore a matter of great regret that Lady Northcote, who is our President, is unavoidably prevented from being present here today. I am a very poor substitute for Lady Northcote whose love for plants and flowers is such a delightful encouragement to this Society.

Owing to the poor weather conditions and the typhoon in September last, this year's entries, especially in the Peak Section, have fallen off a bit but, still, we have received some very excellent exhibits and it is a matter for congratulation that, in spite of the weather, the standard of the entries is so high.

Owing to the increased use of the Volunteer Headquarters for training purposes, we are no longer able to have this fine site for future exhibitions and we are therefore greatly indebted to the Hong Kong Government for allowing us the use of this excellent piece of ground for the exhibition. We hope that it may be nicely turfed and made available for other public functions.

I want also to thank the Commissioner of Police for the valuable assistance given to us by the Police Department and by the Fire Brigade. The band of H.M.S. Suffolk has been entertaining you, ladies and gentlemen, during the whole of this exhibition and in your name I wish to thank Capt. Sendford and the Officers of the Suffolk for this entertainment. Lastly but not least, you will want me to express keen appreciation to our energetic Honorary Secretary, Mr. J. T. Bagram, and our efficient Honorary Treasurer, Mr. Andrew Tse. The change over from the Volunteer Headquarters to this new site entails a lot of hard work and planning, and these two officers of the Society are to be congratulated on this very well laid-out exhibition.

GOVERNOR'S THANKS

After distributing the prizes, His Excellency paid tribute to those responsible for the Show—gratitude because, as was generally known, it took weeks of thought and preparation to organise an exhibition of such dimensions and admiration because it had proved so successful.

The Governor also congratulated the prize winners, and conveyed a message from Lady Northcote, say-

FORGERY CASE

Police Officers Testify

Further evidence was taken before Mr. R. Edwards at Central Magistracy yesterday in the case in which four men and a woman are charged with possession of forged Chinese bank notes and paraphernalia for the manufacture of the notes.

Defendants are Cheung Sam-mul, 28, married woman, Wong Yau-sang, 24, cook, Ho Pak-ku, 37, unemployed, Wong Hang-kwong, 36, unemployed, and Yui Yan-hong, 26, accountant.

Mr. J. Whyatt, Assistant Attorney-General, is prosecuting, and Mr. D. McCallum is defending the fourth defendant.

Formal evidence proving the translation of certain documents was given by Mr. Fong Sui-kin, of the Secretariat of Chinese Affairs.

Detective-Inspector L. R. Whant, Detective-Sergeant C. Dowman, and Detective-Sergeant N. B. Fraser deposed to the raids and arrest of the defendants.

Following cross-examination of Sergeant Fraser by Mr. McCallum, the hearing was adjourned till March 7.

ing how very sorry she was that she could not be present for reasons known probably to all.

His Excellency concluded by assuring the Society that so long as he was the Patron he would offer every assistance he could for its welfare.

Amongst those present yesterday were His Excellency the Governor, Major-General A. W. Bartholomew, Commodore E. B. C. Dieken, Hon. Mr. N. L. Smith, Hon. Mr. R.A.C. and Mrs. North, Hon. T. H. and Mrs. King, Hon. Dr. and Mrs. Li Shu-fan, Capt. Batty-Smith, A.D.C. The show remains open today, and the committee hope that many school children will visit it.

THE JUDGES

The following were the judges:—Pot Plants (Open):—Major G. M. Churcher, Mr. M. W. Lo and Mr. Andrew Tse.

Pot Plants (Peak):—Col. H. B. L. Dowbiggin, Mr. F. Flippance and Mr. J. P. Robinson.

THE CUSTOMER IS ALWAYS RIGHT

BUS EMPLOYEES CONVICTED

Passenger Assaulted

"It is rather a pity that defendants, in this case, did not elect to go into the witness-box: because their brief statements are so odd that they would need cross-examination to make them intelligible," said Mr. K. M. A. Barnett, at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday, when he delivered judgment in a case in which two employees of the Kowloon Motor Bus Company were charged with assaulting Chan Kwok-chuen, 26, in Waterloo Road, Kowloon Tong, on January 25.

Continuing, Mr. Barnett said: "There is no contesting the fact that complainant was beaten up and left unconscious on the road by somebody."

Complainant tell a detailed story, corroborated at all possible points, accusing the two defendants of having beaten him. Defendants answer this with a simple contradiction and ask me to believe that after they had been assaulted by complainant, and had been unable to pacify him, one of them blew a police whistle to call for help. There is then a hiatus until the constable finds complainant lying unconscious.

"This hiatus neither defendant attempted to fill by explanation. Both say they did not see complainant faint. They imply that they simply made themselves scarce and did not explain why they did not wait for the constable who was bound to appear in reply to the whistle. They did not explain either why neither of them went to the terminus regulator for assistance, since he was there the whole time. I am unable to accept defendants' explanation; it is no explanation. I believe complainant's story and convict both the defendants."

MUST BE COURTEOUS

"This case discloses an unfortunate state of affairs which I hope is not universal. I thought it was everywhere recognised that bus conductors must be unfailingly courteous and subservient to passengers and must always humbly apologise for any mistake."

"It is a case of considerable public interest, and I sincerely hope that the bus company will see fit to dispense with the services, at least, of the first defendant, as a lesson to any other conductor who may not have learnt the elementary lesson, that 'the customer is always right.'"

"I have seriously considered whether I ought not to send them both to gaol without the option, but as they will probably lose their jobs, I will let them go with a fine."

CASE RECALLED

The case was one in which Chan Pak 24, bus conductor on bus No. 622 and Cheng Kam Tong, driver of the same bus, were alleged to have assaulted complainant, Chan Kwok-chuen, 26, after he had got on the bus from the Jordan Road ferry bus stop.

His Worship imposed a fine of $15 on the first defendant, and ordered him to pay $3 as amends to the complainant, and second defendant was fined $10 with $2 amends to be paid to complainant.

Both defendants were further ordered to be bound over in a sum of $25 each for a period of six months.

Complainant donated to the Poor Box the $5 compensation.

SNATCHER GETS FOUR MONTHS

Arrested After Chase In Nathan Road

Lam Hung, 25, unemployed Chinese, was yesterday sentenced to four months' imprisonment by Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy on a charge of snatching a handbag containing $111.22 from Cho Chat-mul, married woman, while she was walking along Nathan Road near the Majestic Theatre about 5.30 p.m. on Wednesday.

It was alleged that defendant came up from behind the complainant and snatched the bag. He was chased and eventually arrested by an Indian constable. The bag and its contents were recovered.

FIGURED AND FLOWERED SILKS

New Colours And Designs For Summer

Paris, Jan. 28.

The silk materials for spring and summer dresses show variety in weight and texture, as well as in design. There are the classical favourites, crepe de Chine, marocain, and chiffon, followed by silk canvases, extra-wide jerseys, ottomans, and voiles, all of which have dull surfaces. Satin is less popular and cloques are rare, their place being taken by a new range of heavy, supple dress crepes, which fall in sculptured folds. Broadly ribbed silks of the ottoman family are shown by Ducharme, as well as light-weight silks with broche stripes and floral designs shining upon dull grounds. Open-work patterns, which look like massed pin-pricks in the material, give character to another group of silks which are suitable for afternoon dresses.

REVERSIBLE SILKS

This year there will be many silk tailormade coats for the afternoon made from specially woven faconné silks. Some of these silks repeat the designs of classical woollen suitings with fine stripes and checks, others show small motifs woven with two colours and based upon flowers or geometrical forms. Coudurier uses flowers, tiny bells, and lucky charms as motifs on these strong, tailoring silks, many of which are reversible, so that coats and jackets will need no linings. Flower-heads are arranged in bands to break the surfaces of many faconné silks and embroidered centres to the flowers introduce a third colour to the design. Another type of woven motif for the spring shows Persian influence.

GOSSAMER WEAVES

Manufacturers have woven mousselines, silk organdie, and "Bouffonette" (a cloqué organdie) for summer evening frocks and garden-party dresses. "Voile Palustre" is a shiny silk-muslin which feels brittle in the hand, while the transparency of "Tussor-muslin" is broken by short, rough threads like shantung. Gauze and jersey etamines are among the novelty fabrics and express the tendency towards light, gossamer weaves, which is seen everywhere.

Figured silks are plentiful and colours are specially bright this year. Some of the figured silks from Ducharme incorporate 40 different shades in one design. Cyclamen, azalea, and magenta pinks are grouped with bright, light blues, such as turquoise, periwinkle, and chine-blue, while mauves, greens, and soft yellows are included in the designs which have dark grounds Bordeaux, brown, black, and dark green make good grounds for the spotted silks which are used for simple dresses. Turquoise spots look well on Bordeaux and pink or white spots on black, but dark green is often spotted with a light shade of the same colour.

Four different types of silk are used as grounds for figured dress fabrics this season, crepe de Chine, crepon, "Faribole" (a heavy dull crepe), and chiffon. Similar designs are applied to all and choice rests on weight only, while many dressmakers are using two of these materials in a single model. After the floral patterns prominence is given to designs inspired by real lace, and stripes or leaf motifs are printed in strong gulfur patterns on dark grounds. After these designs comes a group of white silks figured with black and nigger-brown grasses, ears of wheat, and oats or seeding dandelions.

Persian designs showing ferns, flowers, and leaves packed closely together are full of colour and look at a distance like rich enamels. New methods of printing silks now permit manufacturers to reproduce any design which an artist draws on paper, and the designer's craftsmanship is shown in silks which have pencilled or charcoal-drawn patterns. Others, again, seem to be drawn with crayon pencils or with fine pen lines filled in with splashes of colour which give them the quality of water-colours.

FLOWER GARLANDS

Many of Coudurier's designs are based upon marguerites and daisies, the smaller flowers arranged in chevrons and strict, orderly stripes on the tailoring silks, the larger motifs scattered widely over those materials which are intended for formal dresses. Georgette Vaporeuse is a specially light georgette figured with a novel design of garden peas showing leaves, flowers, and bursting pea-pods in pale green and pink upon dark grounds. Bouquets and sheaves of flowers make splashes of colour upon formal silks and garlands of poppies and cornflowers are swung across the full widths of heavy marocains.

SPRIGGED PATTERNS

A number of designs similar to those which are used for cretonnes and old-fashioned wallpapers have been adapted to dress fabrics for young people. Groups of tiny flowers tied with ribbons, bands of roses running across the materials, and small floral sprigs in pink and green upon white or cream grounds fall into this group. Scenery in the neighbourhood of Paris has inspired two unusual silks, one of which shows horsemen riding beneath green trees, presumably in the Bois de Boulogne, and a second design of trees and statues which recalls the gardens of St. Cloud in summer time.

LANE, CRAWFORD'S Ladies' Salon are showing this week the latest in sun-tan tops with the halter neck. They also have a big variety of Aertex shirts with either the open or closed neck, these being obtainable in all sizes and colours.

The s.s. President Coolidge brought for MAYOR's a lot of new summer hats and also a large consignment of smart dresses in prints and also in all the most refreshing summer shades.

When the writer went into RIVELLE yesterday she found them just unpacking a very big shipment of new hats and all so nice too. These are in straw and fabrics, also flowered prints and linen for afternoon wear. They have also just received a big range in shorts and slacks—in all sizes.

to marbled effects in three colours, black, white, and pale pink, or peacock-blue. There are also ink-splashed prints in black and navy-blue on white grounds and some black marocains figured with small and vivid motifs which look like stained-glass windows. Striped silks have lines running in length, or width while checked designs are suggested with wavy ribbon lines and crossed feathers. Maze patterns of coiling ribbons or many-coloured serpentines lend interest to crepe de Chines and silk jerseys.

Wears Fashion's Latest Nifties

Slightly Russian is Ann Sothern's striking 'cost dress worn in RKO Radio's "She's Got Everything," co-starring Gene Raymond. Azure blue dyed fox outlines the flared skirt of the costume, its material being a slightly deeper shade of blue in woolen suède cloth, and forms a long stole which drapes the neck and hangs loosely over one arm. A pillbox hat, suede gloves and cut-out shoes complete the ensemble. At the left is a study in accessories. A smart Persian brocade, black and orange, is used in the angular pouch handbag, and in the pleated high turban which is banded with black velvet ribbon. Stone marten furs are casually draped over Ann's arm to complete the costume.

New Fashions Demand A...

Nowadays, the well-groomed woman waits as eagerly to hear what colours are to be worn for her face as she does for those which will predominate in her clothes.

At a large and important fashion show, where designers, American buyers, Press and smart London were gathered together, new make-up colours for the coming season were revealed. No doubt you have been waiting to hear what they are.

Well, you can put away your glowing lip-sticks, your orange-reds, your warm rouges, and your deep beige powders. Pack them up and send them all to some friend who lives way out in Darkest Africa. You won't need them.

The new dress colours are mostly blues and pinks and pale greys. Could you wear orange-toned make-up with these? You could not.

Black, too, is still popular, but in almost every case it is brightened up with pink. A pink hat, pink bag, or a bunch of pink flowers on a black evening muff.

VIOLETS ARE WORN

These pinks, too, go with greys and blues. Pale grey suits, with darker grey blouses, a dark panel down one side of the skirt, and a pink hat. Soft blue suits, with again pink hats.

You will wear mauves and soft wines. Mauve gloves, and mauve belt, with a blue frock. Violets are the flowers to wear, too.

With these colourings go special shades of make-up for the face.

A Hollywood Court recently granted Mr. Frank Fay, former husband of the film star, Miss Barbara Stanwyck, the right to visit their adopted son, five-year-old Dion Anthony, twice a week, and to have full custody of the child on alternate Saturdays.

Eye-shadow silver blue. Mascara dark blue.

Powder very faint dusty pink.

soft and pinky to give that rose and white effect our grandmothers loved so well.

Done skillfully, the effect is very feminine and very lovely.

Powder-base in this new make-up is more than ever important. The complexion must be very soft and white, with a magi-like finish.

Providing your skin is in good condition, you can obtain this effect by using a liquid lotion that, as it dries, leaves a fine, chiffon-textured surface.

A liquid powder-base in soft rose-rachel. With this, a rouge in very clear pink, specially blended for pastel colours.

Lipstick to match, and air outlining pencil made to go with blues and pinks.

A green-blue eye-shadow, and blue-black eye cosmetic.

Two powders—pale cream underneath, with slightly deeper cream-tinted pink on top.

AND THE NEW BLUES

Foundation lotion in a dark rachel. Rouge of soft dusty red, and lipstick to match.

Eye-shadow is gold-green, mascara dark brown, and powder is peach tone.

AND THEN THE GREYS
Foundation lotion is pale peach, and a dusty pink.

YOU'LL BE IN CLOVER

Most exciting of all is the lovely new clover colour—the sort of pink that is quite indescribable because it is bright without being hard, and of that subtle shade that is—well, just clover!

You've seen it in the fields when the clover is very fresh, and more pink than mauve. It is to be worn a great deal with black, and the interesting thing about it is that it has a special make-up to go with it. Here it is.

IN HONG KONGHEAVY COST OF EMPIRE
DEFENCE PROGRAMMEIMPROVED AIRCRAFT AND ARMAMENTS COMPLETED

London, March 2.

The British air estimates for this year represents six times the amount expended before the air expansion programme was started in 1935.

Except for one squadron all the Home Defence squadrons were completed in June last, so that efforts are now largely concentrated on overseas expansion and Empire defence, the scope of which is indicated by the widespread allocations to new works buildings as, for example, additions to the accommodation and landing ground at Aden, new barracks and technical accommodation at Bahrain, a landing ground at Jesselton in North Borneo and new works in Hong Kong.

Further sums are provided to continue work on landing grounds on the Calcutta route and the construction of a station at Trincomall, ultimately costing £500,000.

Other works include improvement to the aerodrome at Gibraltar, extended accommodation for the fleet air arm at Hong Kong new stations at Hantsen and Pathuang and new developments in Iraq.

In Malaya, apart from further expansion at Singapore, provision has been made for new stations at Kulang and Sungsipatan.

Funds are to be provided for an equipment depot at Malta and a station at Luqa.

As regards the army accumulation of war reserves, this is proceeding on a large scale.

The stages of design and development are already ended or within sight of completion in respect to nearly all major articles of armament and equipment. A certain amount of equipment, including modern vehicles, is already being issued to the Territorial Army.

NEW TYPES OF AIRCRAFT

The new types of aircraft which are being delivered to squadrons have shown a high degree of performance.

Equipment, including many new and improved types of armaments and instruments, has fulfilled all expectations, and deliveries are proceeding satisfactorily.

The number of types of aircraft is being progressively reduced. Six "shadow factories" for air frames, air screws and bombs have started, or will shortly do so.

The defence programme has involved the provision of additional storage and accommodation for all services, entailing heavy expenditure.

GOOD RECRUITING

Recruits are entering in greatly increased numbers. Some 11,000 recruits entered for the Navy in the first nine months of the 1937 financial year. There were 3,600 more Army recruits in 1937 than in 1936, and with many concessions granted the record number of 45,000 recruits was obtained in the Territorials during 1937.

The strength of all ranks shows increase by nearly 18,000. There are now 11 air service flying training schools.

Two new infantry battalions and one new tank battalion have been formed.

Arrangements with the Government of India will enable continuance of the mechanisation of cavalry regiments.

In connection with defence against air attacks, two anti-aircraft divisions were increased in strength by 345 officers and 9,000 other ranks between April and December of last year.

BALLOON BARGE

A balloon barrage scheme was successfully started and most of the material has already been delivered.

Recruiting for an auxiliary personnel is to start in May.

A chapter is devoted to the measures to protect civilian populations against air raids, which local authorities will undertake under the guidance of the Government. A training school for air raid precautions officers is being opened.

A large proportion of gas respirators to supply the whole of the civilian population is already available, and the balance will be available by the end of the year.

Elaborate precautions to cope with the consequences of air raids have been launched, especially with regard to the outbreak of fire. The schemes already ensure the efficiency and operation of various transport services in the maintenance and distribution of food and oil supplies.

GREATER EXPENDITURE

Regarding the cost, the estimates for the current financial year have provided for an expenditure of £284,000,000. For the ensuing year provision has been made for £352,000,000.

The present indications are that the programmes in hand are likely to involve a defence expenditure in the 1938 estimates.

Future expenditure will particularly depend upon the degree of success which attends the Government's efforts to achieve some appeasement in international affairs.

The White Paper concludes: "It must be expected, even on the assumption that 1939, as now seems probable, will be the peak year in defence expenditure, that the total expenditure for defence over the five financial years of 1937 to 1941 will exceed the £1,500,000,000 mentioned in the White Paper in February, 1937."—(Reuter).

BRITISH AIRCRAFT SABOTAGE

London, Mar. 2.

Questioned in the House of Commons about alleged sabotage on bombing planes at Ringway aerodrome, Lt-Col. A. J. Muirhead, (Under-Secretary for Air) said that on February 14 when two planes were about to be tested it was discovered that their petrol tanks were leaking.

The matter was investigated and the conclusion was reached that the tanks had been pierced by a sharp instrument. Investigations were still proceeding.

Lt-Col. Muirhead added that apart from this case no cases of sabotage in the construction of aircraft had been brought to the notice of the Air Ministry in the past three months.—(British Wireless).

FORMER GERMAN
COLONIESChamberlain Questioned
In Commons

London, Mar. 2.

The Prime Minister was asked in the House of Commons whether, following on Herr Hitler's speech in the Reichstag stating the determination of Germany to recover her former colonies, the Government had received any official intimation from the German Government regarding the return of these colonies and whether the Government had any proposals in mind to resolve this question either by unilateral conversations with Germany or in conjunction with other powers.

Mr. Chamberlain replied that, if the question was whether communication from the German Government on this matter had been made supplementary to Herr Hitler's speech the answer was negative.

PRINCIPLES OF
LEAGUEBritish Adherence
With Reservations

London, Mar. 2.

Mr. Noel Baker (Lab.) called the Prime Minister's attention in the House of Commons today to the declaration of the Assembly of the League of Nations on March 11, 1932 to the effect that it was incumbent on members of the League not to recognise any situation, treaty or agreement brought about by means contrary to the Covenant or the Pact of Paris, and asked whether Government still accepted this Statement of their international obligations.

The Premier, Mr. Chamberlain, said that as stated by the then Foreign Secretary in December 1936, His Majesty's Government adhered to the principle of the declaration, which was made in connection with the particular case of the Sino-Japanese dispute.

Mr. Eden had, said the Prime Minister, gone on to indicate that in its application to any case His Majesty's Government must be entitled to take into account the facts of the situation and of the necessity of adequately protecting British interests.

Any such action on the part of the Government would not imply approval of the methods by which the situation was brought about.

These views still correctly represented the attitude of His Majesty's Government on this subject, concluded Mr. Chamberlain.—(British Wireless).

HITLER'S ROMAN
TREAT

Rome, Mar. 2.

All records for hospitality will be broken for Herr Adolf Hitler's visit to Rome, which will last from April 3 to 10.

Among other spectacles for his benefit will be a gigantic naval display arranged in the Gulf of Naples and a big military parade along the triumphal road to Rome.—(Reuter).

PERSHING NOW

Tucson, Arizona, Mar. 2.

General Pershing, who has been dangerously ill for the past few days, spent a fairly restful night.

His doctors now state that the immediate danger appears to have passed and there is a chance that he will recover.—(Reuter).

GERMAN-SOVIET AGREEMENT

Berlin, Mar. 3.

The German-Soviet Clearing Agreement, concluded between the two countries in the early part of the last year, has been extended to cover the year 1938, according to an official announcement issued here yesterday.—(Transocean).

RUSSIA ACCEPTS
BRITISH PLAN

London, Mar. 2.

The Soviet Ambassador in London M. Maisky has communicated to the chairman of the Non-Intervention Committee Russia's acceptance in principle of the British formula for withdrawal of foreign volunteers from Spain.

No meeting of the Non-Intervention Committee has yet been fixed.—(British Wireless).

Regarding the second part of the question, the Premier said he had nothing to add to what he had previously said on this matter.—(British Wireless).

Japan Building Pocket
Raiding Cruisers

London, March 2.

Mr. A. Duff Cooper (First Lord of the Admiralty) was asked in the House of Commons if he had and information to give the House regarding building by Japan of a new series of small battle cruisers carrying heavy guns for use as commercial raiders, and what steps the Board of the Admiralty proposed to take to deal with such development.

Mr. Duff Cooper said the answer to the first part of the question was negative and the second part therefore did not really arise, but the House would be aware that the question of Japanese naval construction was at present under consideration by the Government in consultation with other Powers concerned.—(British Wireless).

LAMMERT BROS.
AUCTIONEERS.NIEMOELLER AND THE STATE

Berlin, Mar. 3.

It is learned from Church circles that the presiding Judge, after having pronounced the verdict on Pastor Niemoeller, made a statement setting forth the reasons for the verdict.

They had sat on judgment not on a matter of religion, he said, but solely on a matter of penal offences committed by the accused. After having made a careful examination of all available evidence, the court had come to the conclusion that the accused had brought himself into conflict with the law from motives arising out of a sense of conviction.

Niemoeller's actions in each individual case had been considered by the court in this light, the statement continued. Nevertheless the court had put on record that the accused was fully aware of his culpable utterances. It had been proved beyond doubt that among those who attended divine services in Niemoeller's church were persons who came not for religious interest but really out of hostility to the state.—(Transocean).

POLAR PARTY NEAR HOME

Oslo Mar. 3.

The Soviet ice breakers Taimyr and Murman, with members of the rescued Papin polar expedition on board, yesterday dropped anchor in the Norwegian seaport of Kopervik.

The masters reported having had a rough passage. Whilst still many miles from the nearest port, the engines of the Murman broke down and the vessel had to be taken in tow by the Taimyr.

Great interest was aroused in Kopervik by the arrival of the two arctic ships.—(Transocean).

SONJA HENIE'S NEW PICTURE

A Prince, A Girl And Romance

Sonja Henie, internationally famous skating champion, excels her performance in "One In A Million" in the new picture, "Thin Ice." New miracles of grace are revealed as she skates and skis along the silvery Alpine slopes.
The story is swiftly paced, exhilaratingly exciting and hilariously funny. Tyrone Power, playing the part of a prince, has come to an Alpine winter resort to escape the bickerings of two agents over a neutrality pact and accidentally meets Miss Henie while skating.
A romance develops which is made complicated by the intrigues of the two agents to use the girl as an instrument to persuade the prince to come to terms.
"Thin Ice" is showing at the King's Theatre.

MOUNTAIN JUSTICE

Gripping Melodrama

"Mountain Justice" is a gripping melodrama based upon a young girl's ambition to bring the benefits of civilization to the benighted people of her remote village in the hills. Thwarted by nearly all of them—especially by her own father—she almost sacrifices her life for her ideals of betterment.

Josephine Hutchinson is starred as the young girl who is forced to kill her father to save her own life and that of her sister; George Brent is co-starred as a young attorney who believes in her and aids her. Among the other notables in the cast are Robert Barrat, Guy Kibbee, Marcia Mae Jones, Mona Barrie, Elizabeth Risdon and Fuzzy Knight. Michael Curtiz directed the picture from an original screen play by Norman Reilly Raine and Lucie Ward.

"Mountain Justice" is showing at the Queen's Theatre today.

"SONG OF THE CITY"

Margaret Lindsay In New Picture

An excellent story effectively presented by a capable cast won the warm approval of an audience at the Majestic Theatre last night. The picture, titled "Song of the City," comes from the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios and bears the stamp of competent handling in every detail.

"Song of the City" is the story of a youth who refused to marry for wealth when his own money was lost in the stock market. The girl, however, loves him and refuses to give him up easily. The youth is washed overboard from a San Francisco Bay ferry and rescued by an Italian fisherman.

The story is presented with vivid realism by a talented group of players headed by Margaret Lindsay and Jeffrey Dean. The supporting cast includes J. Carroll Nash, Nat Pendleton, Stanley Morner, Marla Shelton, Inez Palange, Charles Judels, Edward Norris, Fay Helm and Frank Puglia.

The "Astor Trio and Katie Maeltzer appear on the stage in conjunction with the film.

"HER FACE WAS HER FORTUNE"

K.C. And An Injured Actress

AGE OF DANCERS

An actress, of whom her counsel, Mr. Roland Oliver, K.C., said that "her face was her fortune," claimed damages in the King's Bench Division recently for injuries said to have been received in a collision between a motor-car and a taxi-cab in Chelsea last April.

She is Miss Sylvia Reynolds, 23, of New Cavendish-street, W., and she sued Mr. Sidney Bliss, of Cambridge-terrace, S.W., and Mr. W. J. Hardware, of Shiplon Garage, Prince of Wales-road, N.W. Both defendants denied negligence.

Mr. Oliver said that Miss Reynolds was a stage and screen actress, a mannequin, and a photographer's model.

As a result of the accident she received a cut on the head which left a scar, and she had lost movement in her left arm and shoulder, which interfered with her dancing.

SITTING ON MAN'S KNEE

Miss Reynolds, giving evidence, said that when the accident happened she was sitting on a man friend's knee in a car which Mr. Bliss was driving. She knew nothing more until she woke up in hospital.

She was there for a fortnight, then had an operation, costing 40 guineas, for the removal of a scar on her head.

The injury to her shoulder was still painful, and interfered with her dressing. She could not dance for more than a quarter of an hour; her sleep was disturbed, and she was sometimes very irritable.

Mr. Oliver: You are what is called a show girl?—Yes.
Someone who is tall, and, if I may say so, good looking and to be looked at?—Yes.

Miss Reynolds said she had acted as mannequin at a number of West End stores, and posed as photographer's model for advertisement purposes. She could earn an average of £20 a week.

Mr. Leonard James Hayes said that Miss Reynolds was sitting on his knee in the car. He did not see the cab before it hit the rear side of the car. Miss Reynolds fell out on to the pavement.

Mr. Richard Lang, another occupant of the car, was asked by Mr. J. D. Cassels, K.C., for Mr. Bliss: "Do you drive a car?"

"No, I am a cyclist," he replied. "I must not ask you too many questions about cars, then," said counsel, amid laughter.

LORD HEWART AND GINGER ROGERS

Dr. D. Pennington said that Miss Reynolds might reasonably be able to follow her occupation, as before, in six months' time if she had proper treatment.

Mr. Cassels: No one is suggesting that she will be a Ginger Rogers in six months—if you understand what I mean?

"Yes," assented the doctor. "I am glad to see that we have a doctor with some knowledge," Mr. Cassels commented.

The Lord Chief Justice, Lord Hewart, Am I supposed to understand that? (Laughter.)

"No, my lord," Mr. Cassels replied. "Your lordship does not, however, seem to have asked the usual question. We therefore presume that your lordship understands."

Later, Lord Hewart asked Dr. Pennington: "Have you any idea what is the average age of the leading lady of the ballet?"

Dr. Pennington: No, I have not.

Mr. Cassels: Would you like to guess?

ALICE FAYE STARS IN BIG HIT

"You're A Sweetheart"

Alice Faye, more glamorous and beautiful than ever before, and George Murphy, in the hilarious role of a waiter who becomes a millionaire for a week, together with an all star cast appear in Universal's smashing musical triumph "You're A Sweetheart," which starts tomorrow at the Queen's and Alhambra Theatres.

Seen in a dancing role for the first time on the screen, Alice Faye and George Murphy form a new team of dancing stars, backed by a chorus of pretty girls, that will literally take one's breath away as they spin, whirl and glide to the newest song creations of Jimmy McHugh and Harold Adamson.

REFUGEES IN KIANGSI

For the relief of war refugees in Kiangsi, the Kiangsi Provincial Government has set aside 40,000 mow of land in the district of Chishui, a city south of Nanchang along the Kan River in southern Kiangsi. So far about 800 refugees have registered with the provincial authorities and these will be sent to Chishui for reclamation purposes.

Lord Hewart: Is it over or under 50?

Dr. Pennington: I think that with constant training a Pavlova might go up to 50, but an equally star dancer of a heavier build would not stand the course as long. She would give out before 50.

Lord Hewart: Which shows the importance of being lean, Mr. Cassels. (Laughter.)

CHAPLAIN-GENERAL TO THE FORCES

The War Office announces that the King has approved the extension for a further year of the Rev. E. H. Thorold, C.B., C.B.E., M.A., D.D., K.H.C., as Chaplain-General to the Forces. The normal tenure of Dr. Thorold's appointment would have expired on September 30, 1938.

THE MALAYA GARRISON

The general impression gained at the recent combined exercise at Singapore is that the defences are very strong, perhaps the most powerful in the world, but that one additional battery position is needed. Another lesson is that the infantry should be increased, and it is understood that another battalion will be added and a Singapore Infantry Brigade formed. There will also be a garrison at Penang as well as the battalion in Taiping.

ROYAL AIR FORCE

COMMAND OF NEW STATIONS

JAPANESE BRUTALITY

Told By Merchant Who Was
War RefugeeSOLDIERS MAKE DEMAND FOR VALUABLES

Mr. Huang Wen-chen, about 30 years old, was a merchant in Wuhu, a town in Anhwei, where he and his father opened a rice shop the business of which was fairly prosperous. His family consisted of nine members including himself, his father aged 61, his mother aged 43, his two younger brothers—one 11 and the other 14 years old—his 9-year-old sister, his 26-year-old wife and his two babies.

According to Mr. Huang, his father was very benevolent and beloved by all in the locality; his mother was kind and everybody loved her company; his wife was mild and served him to the best of her ability. Only peace and happiness prevailed in his family, but under the flag of the Island Empire his peaceful and happy home was wrecked. Interviewed at his refugee camp in Hankow, Mr. Huang related a story of his horrible experiences at the hands of Japanese invaders.

His story, as told to the Chinese People's Foreign Relations Association, Hankow, is as follows:

"My home was at Wuhu which fell into the hands of Japanese invaders on December 10. After they had forced their entry into the town, they carried on wanton destruction with the result that the most prosperous centres at Shihlichang Street and Chunz Shan Road were reduced to ashes.

"Carrying their bayoneted rifles and axes, various small groups of Japanese soldiers conducted a house-to-house search. The first thing they would do after they had got into a house was to examine high and low all the cases and carried before them all things on which they could lay hands.

"But, their primary object was a search for pretty or young women. Girls aged above 13 and women below 50 would hardly escape the ordeal of 'criminal assault' of the Japanese invaders.

"On the 11th the weather was fine, but an atmosphere of terror prevailed throughout the town. Everybody was panic-stricken and contented himself, or herself by staying at home.

"Suddenly a knock of the door broke the silence, and, hearing this, all the members of my family were trembling with fear. My mother, brothers and sister hastened to hide in a dark room, while my father stood motionless and his face grew pale.

"He dared not open the door, but presently the uninvited visitors broke in by chopping it off with axes. There were five Japanese invaders who were wearing full uniforms and helmets as well.

"As soon as they had entered the house they began to search us, and after that one of them produced a white sheet of paper on which he wrote 'Gold rings and gold watches' in Chinese. Realizing the idea, my father could only offer them a table clock which they smilingly took and went off.

"Not long after they had gone, again came several Japanese invaders who also wrote 'Gold rings and gold watches' on white paper and handed it over to my father, who then signified by moving his hand that he had not possessed those articles. At last they marched off with great dissatisfaction, as seen from their faces.

"At about 3 p.m. of the same day there came another three Japanese invaders, and the first one walking in appeared to be an officer. He was dressed in full uniform; his eyes were fierce and murderous; he had a short moustache; he was carrying a sword. The other two following behind were most probably his attendants.

"Facing us, the Japanese officer tried to get something out from his pocket, but after some length of time he did not fetch out anything, and he did not stop doing that until at last one of his two followers took out a white paper on which those same old words had been written.

"It was handed over to my father. Moving his hand in the same manner as before, my father signified that he did not possess those valuable things.

"The brutal Japanese fired two shots into the river and the corpse of my wife was seen floating on the surface of the water which was stained with blood. Alas, my wife bade good-bye to me!

"Being not satisfied with his blood-thirsty action, that barbaric Jap ended the life of my two babies also. Losing no time, I made my escape. My mother, brothers and sister were walling over the corpse of my father and I do not know what happened to them afterwards. Such horrible experiences shall never, never leave my memory!"

Group Captain G. B. Dacre, D.S.O., will command at Thorney Island.

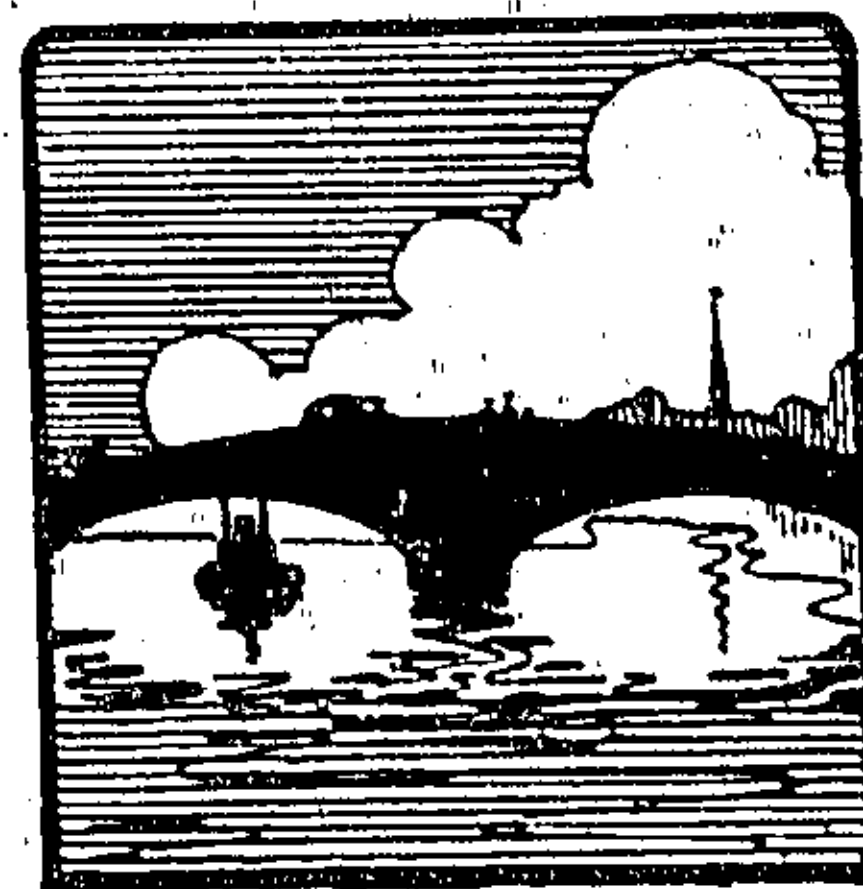

Group Captain J. H. Herring, D.S.O., M.C., is to command at Stradishall.

WEDDINGS AT REGISTRYThree Ceremonies
Yesterday

A quiet wedding took place at the Registry of Marriages, Supreme Court, yesterday, when Miss Chan Sul-kuen, residing at No. 117 Bonham Strand East, first floor, became the bride of Mr. Harry Wing Fong, restaurant owner, of No. 310 Des Voeux Road Central, first floor. The groom is the son of the late Mr. Fong Fung Sing, and the bride's father was the late Mr. Chan Poon-yip.

Mr. W. Aneurin Jones, Deputy Registrar of Marriages, performed the ceremony, in the presence of Messrs. Kwong Yan-po and Fung Wing-hea.

SECOND CEREMONY

The next contracting parties were Mr. Pan Chu-chu, son of Mr. Pan Ho-shan, merchant, and Miss Pan Ah-may, daughter of Mr. Pan Shui-ching. The witnesses were Messrs. Pan King-chi and Wong Kul-yun. Mr. W. Aneurin Jones also officiated.

In the presence of Mrs. Wong Yat-kan and Mr. W. Lui Hanson, Miss Leung May-mi, daughter of the late Mr. Leung Kel-sang, was married to Mr. Kung King-wah, wireless operator, of Chinese Maritime Customs and son of the late Mr. Kung Kung-wah, Mr. W. Aneurin Jones also performing this ceremony.

FORTHCOMING MARRIAGES

The following forthcoming weddings are announced:—
Mr. Francis Joseph Austin, clerk, of Harbour office, residing at Harbour View Hotel, and Miss Joy Sylvia Booker, school teacher, of No. 150 Caine Road.

Mr. Leung Pat-shing, malaria inspector, of the Medical Department, residing at Staff Quarters, Bacteriological Institute, and Miss Chan To Ying, of No. 35 Bonham Strand East, top floor.

Mr. Chan Chung-cheong, salesman, of Office Appliance Co. Ltd., residing at No. 214 Prince Edward Road, second floor, and Miss Florence Fung, of No. 13 Bonham Road.

EXPERIENCES IN NANKINGY.M.C.A. Director To Talk Tonight

Mr. George Fitch, for many years general secretary of the Shanghai Foreign Y.M.C.A. and until recently director of the Refugee Safety Zone in Nanking, arrived here on Sunday by the s.s. Gneisenau.

He will speak to the English Discussion Club of the Chinese Y.M.C.A. in Bridges Street this evening at 7.30 p.m.

Mr. Fitch was in Nanking during the most dangerous periods of the fighting around that city and is therefore well qualified to give first-hand information on the matter.

The English Discussion Club of the Y.M.C.A. was started six months ago for the purpose of improving the members' English both by hearing good speeches and by speaking the language more frequently. It also aims at developing better fellowship and understanding among the younger business clerks in the Colony.

Although there are 40 members it is by no means an exclusive club. New members are always welcome to attend or join the Club in all its activities.

The club meets every Friday at the Chinese Y.M.C.A. at 7.30 p.m.

Y.M.C.A. REPORT
SHOWS PROFITYear's Activities
Reviewed

The European Y.M.C.A. has completed another year of useful activity during which time there has been a satisfactory increase in membership, particularly in the case of sea-going members whose stay in the Colony has been prolonged owing to the Sino-Japanese hostilities.

The statement of accounts for the year shows a nett profit of $1,015.37.

THE STAFF

During the year the Secretary, Mr. A. W. Ingram, states the annual report, was granted special permission by the board of directors to spend his six months' leave in Canada and America with a view to studying the latest trends in the development of the Y.M.C.A., and visited the following Branches:—Victoria, Vancouver, B.C., Calgary, Toronto, Montreal, New York, Philadelphia. He arrived back on October 6.

Mr. Ashton acted as Secretary during Mr. Ingram's absence, and Mrs. Dixey-Beal, in addition to her other duties took charge of the catering for Mrs. Foster, who went on leave from February 6, and returned on November 15. Great credit is due to Mr. Ashton and Mrs. Dixey-Beal for the way in which they carried on.

ACTIVITIES

Due to the Japan-China troubles residential accommodation has been filled to capacity as against only 75 per cent average for the previous year.

The many branches of activities are reviewed, and the report goes on to state:

"The success of the physical, social, educational and recreational activities depends largely on the response of the members to the programme arranged by the promoters. While the appeal of certain sections has brought excellent response, there are still great opportunities for young men to occupy their leisure constructively in sharing in the management of our numerous activities."

The Women's Section has excelled in good works during the year under review.

The annual general meeting, at which the President, Sir Henry Pollock, K.C., will preside, will be held in the West Lounge on Tuesday, March 15 at 5.45 p.m.

News Briefs

The Philippine Clipper, which left Alameda airport yesterday morning, is expected in Hong Kong next Thursday.

Whilst playing on the roof of No. 328 Lockhart Road yesterday morning, an eight-year-old boy named Tong Siu-kay fell over a chair and dislocated his arm. He was sent to the Queen Mary Hospital for treatment.

The Botanical and Forestry Department yesterday planted two young palms along the sidewalk adjoining the Hong Kong and Shanghai Bank Building in Queen's Road. The original trees, which had stood for many years, were uprooted during last year's typhoon.

A successful dance was held at the Cheero Club on Wednesday evening. Music was provided by the Band of the 1st Bn. Middlesex Regiment.

Emigration from Hong Kong during the month of February showed a big decline compared with the month of January. Figures just issued show that 8,772 emigrants left the Colony during the 28 days, making a total of 27,490 for the year.

There will be a dance for servicemen in the Main Lounge of the Cheero Club on Wednesday, March 9, commencing at 8.30 p.m. Jimmy Green and His Boys will supply the music.

The Council of the Institute of Chartered Accountants, London, have declared that the University of Hong Kong is approved as a University. Graduates of the E.K.U. will therefore be entitled to exemption from the preliminary examination of the Institute.

Quarantine restrictions have been imposed by the Satoow authorities against arrivals from Hong Kong on account of small-pox.

DRAMATIC AND
SINGING CONTESTOrganised For War
Relief By Y.W.C.A.

Under the auspices of the Y.W.C.A., a concert in the form of a dramatic and singing contest will be held tomorrow at 7.30 p.m. at Stephen's Girls' College.

The programme comprises four short plays and five songs, which will be rendered by members of St. Stephen's Girls' College, St. Paul's Girls' College, Ying Wah Girls' School, Heep Yuen Girls' School, True Light Girls' School, the Sam Kwong and the Sun Kwok Wah Kwong Clubs.

The purpose of the concert is two-fold: first, to commemorate the eighth anniversary of the Wah Kwong Club, and secondly, to give an opportunity to the affiliated clubs to work in co-operation for some worthy cause.

PROCEEDS TO RELIEF
Half of the proceeds will be donated to the War Relief Fund and the other half to the free schools organised by the Y.W.C.A. The honorary judges for the choir singing will be Mr. Gerald Sydney and Mr. Rupert Baldwin, and those for the four plays will be Mrs. Huang Sul-feng, Mr. Chan Kwan-po, and Prof. Tsui Ti-shan. Mrs. Kan Chia-hou will distribute the prizes at the conclusion of the concert.

Cure CHEST
Troubles
COUGHS & FLU

If you suffer with sudden chills, coughs or lung-weakening colds, make it a regular habit to take Peps at the least sign of trouble.

A Peps dissolved in your mouth gives off rich, medicinal essences which penetrate deep into chest and lungs. Thus, in this direct way, Peps search out and overcome harmful germs. They slay inflammation and congestion in the air-tubes and soon end coughs, colds and throat troubles. For bronchitis, asthma, flu and other chest and lung weaknesses Peps are your surest remedy.

HOUSING SCANDAL IN HONG KONG

In the stress and strain of the most serious conflict in which the two great Asiatic Powers have ever been engaged, the Government of this Colony may be forgiven for some domestic lapses which in other circumstances would undoubtedly receive severe criticism.

That is one of the reasons why this journal has, so far, refrained from criticising the scandalous manner in which the small-pox epidemic was tackled—or, to be more precise, has been left untackled. It would be making confusion worse confounded by offering comments on past lapses at a time when the warmer weather which has set in promises to stamp out the disease. But, at a more appropriate time, on the strength of a mass of evidence collected, we shall chastise the Medical and other departments concerned with the whip of castigation in the hope that in the future the community will not be continually exposed to the grave and totally unnecessary risk of death by foul diseases as the result of governmental omissions and inefficiency.

But there is one domestic problem—housing—which for some months past has been causing such serious disquiet, misery and alarm and promises to show still further aggravation in the future that we should be failing in duty if we did not press for immediate action.

Is the Government of this Colony aware of the appalling housing conditions which have arisen in Hong Kong as the result of the invasion by a quarter of a million

WILL STORY
ALLEGEDCouple Accused of Fraud

When a man and his wife were charged with fraud at Woking recently it was stated that the woman had told the police that she was expecting £12,000,000 under a will.

Albert Staples and May Staples, of Liddiard House, Monument-road, Woking, were remanded for a week on five charges of obtaining by means of fraud other than false pretences sums of money totalling £20. Bail in £20 each was allowed.

Staples alleged in evidence that the charges were a "frame-up" by his enemies.

Mr. L. E. Barker, prosecuting, said that Staples told various people that his wife was entitled to a large sum of money under a will, and certain sums were needed to obtain Somerset House stamps and various documents.

He said it had been a long-contested will, and mentioned the Duchy of Cornwall estate, saying that the final cheque in his favour would be drawn by the Duke of Kent. They lent him money.

As nothing happened, said Mr. Barker, one of the people who lent money went to the police. They interviewed Mrs. Staples, who said that she was expecting to receive £12,000,000 and gave the names of some solicitors in London who, she said, were acting for her. It was found that there was no such firm.

She said that she would receive the money under the will of a Mr. McKinnon, of Notting Hill.

When asked whether she knew McKinnon by any other name, she said "No," but added that he was a man of title connected with the Royal Family.

A search of wills in Somerset House had failed to bring to light this one of McKinnon.

refugees? The position, as people who have taken the trouble to inquire know, is so grave and the persistent inactivity of the authorities so callous, that an urgent case for a petition to the Colonial Office seems to be presented.

Large numbers of the refugees now living in Hong Kong are people of means who are willing to pay well for houses. The result is that old tenants, those hard-working Hong Kong wage-earners, are literally kicked out at a month's notice. Some even plead with the landlord to be allowed to continue the tenancy at an increased rent, but all entreaties fall on deaf ears. They look for a cheaper house but find none available, because these have, meanwhile, been snapped up at greatly increased rentals.

What is the result? Go into the hotels, the lodging houses, the tenement houses, anywhere, in fact, where there is a roof above four walls, and the answer will be found there—an answer in human souls that will shock the conscience. Educated families, men, women and children who have been brought up to live and move in clean decent surroundings, reduced to share a cubicle in a class of house far beneath their standard and station—hovels in which it is impossible for them to practice the ordinary rules of hygiene and clean living to which they have been used from their childhood.

The physical, mental and moral effect of this sudden change must be pathetic and will redound to the discredit of this Colony for all time. To whom is the duty of this Government first and foremost? To the refugees or to the permanent population of this Colony? As suddenly as they came, the former, or most of them at any rate, will depart, but the wage-earning community will remain, for, as Mr. J. P. Braga pointed out in his able letter in yesterday's Daily Press, it forms the backbone of this Colony's commercial structure.

The problem is far too serious to allow any mercenary considerations to influence the decision. Firm and immediate action is imperative. We are at one with the Government in its declaration against rent restriction legislation. Many factors make such a measure impracticable. But, for the purposes of the present deplorable housing conditions, the Government can at least prevent further aggravation by refusing hospitality to refugees who are financially in a position to travel further afield and who would be gladly welcomed in other parts of the British Empire, until more houses are built. The Government can, as Mr. Braga points out, pass legislation

CORRESPONDENCE

HONG KONG SINGERS
(To the Editor, "The Hong Kong Daily Press")

Sir.—The collection taken at the annual Armistice Day Concert given by the Hong Kong Singers last November was donated to St. Dunstan's to assist that institution in its work for war-blinded men.

I should like, through your columns, to convey to the public of Hong Kong the grateful thanks of Captain Sir Ian Fraser, expressed in the following letter recently received.

St. Dunstan's.

Regents Park, N.W.1.
Dear Dr. Ride.—It is a great pleasure to receive from the National Institute for the Blind a further most generous gift of twenty pounds which the Hong Kong Singers are good enough to forward for the benefit of war-blinded men, this amount being the result of a Concert and Collection. I am indeed grateful to you, the members of your Committee, the Hong Kong Singers, and the people of Hong Kong for this splendid help.

Please accept the sense of gratitude which I am endeavouring to convey as coming not from myself alone, but from my Council, and above all my blind comrades who will materially benefit by the interest taken in their welfare.

With every good wish for 1938.
Yours sincerely,
(sgd.) Ian Fraser
Chairman.

This contribution makes the total sum of money raised by the Hong Kong Singers for charities during the last three years, well over £4,000; and while thanking the people of Hong Kong for their support in the past, I should like to take this opportunity of reminding your readers that our concert of part songs and sea shanties is being given in the China Fleet Club on Wednesday next at 9.30 p.m.

The proceeds of this concert are to be devoted to the funds of the Sailors' and Soldiers' Home, an institution whose valuable work is so well known to the Hong Kong public and so much appreciated by the sea-faring men who visit this port.

L. T. Ride,
Chairman,
Hong Kong Singers.

(To The Editor, "The Hong Kong Daily Press")

Sir.—The housing problem has come up for public discussion at a propitious time.

I have been occupying my present flat for over a year during which time I have never failed to pay my rent promptly every month, and I have received notice to vacate at the end of March.

For over a week I have tried hard to find a place to move into, but it seems impossible to get anything suitable at a reasonable rent nowadays. The rents of all the flats I inspected were far beyond my humble means.

I am just one of Hong Kong's thousands of office assistants and can only just manage to make ends meet. Now what am I to do? My family must be housed somehow, but where we are to find a new home I cannot see.

I heartily endorse the suggestion put forward by Mr. J. P. Braga in his eloquent letter, and I appeal to our Government to do something for us soon.

Yours, etc.,
"AT WITS' END."
Hong Kong, March 3, 1938.

ILLICIT STILL

On charges of distilling spirit without a licence, possession of apparatus for doing so, fermenting material and dutiable spirit at No. 19, Bridges Street, a Chinese was fined a total of £285, with the alternative of three months' and six weeks' hard labour by Mr. R. Edwards at Central Magistracy yesterday.

Revenue Officer J. L. Stephens prosecuted.

In order to put an end to the high-handed practice of summary eviction, moreover, a scheme to accommodate the poorer class of refugees in camps outside the city limits would ensure that no further burden is placed on the capacity of a class of house which is already frightfully overcrowded. Unless some sort of action is taken immediately by the local Government, this journal will give its hearty support to any move made with a view to bringing the gravity of the position to the notice of the Imperial Government.

WOMAN EXPERT
VINDICATES THE LITTLE OWLNot A Menace To
Song BirdsFANTASTIC LEGEND
EXPLODED

After a scientific inquiry lasting 18 months and covering 34 counties, Miss Alice Hibbert-Ware, the analyst has reported to the British Trust for Ornithology on the habits of the little owl, which "outlawed" by the Home Office in 1936. Her findings, published recently, states:

That the little owl is not a menace to British song-birds; Does not attack game or poultry; Does not kill birds and mammals to come back and feed on carrion beetles attracted to the corpses.

Regarding to last finding Miss Hibbert-Ware comments:

"This story, perhaps the most fantastic legend recently started about any animal, runs counter to all the evidence available, and incidentally to the known limitations of a bird's mind, which is almost certainly incapable of any such forethought."

OUTLAWED IN 1936

The little owl was first introduced into England about 1874. A prolific breeder, it multiplied rapidly and a report published by the British Field Sports Society in 1935 accused it of being a killer of song and game birds.

The following year the Home Office agreed to make a special order withdrawing the bird from the protected list to any county council applying for it. A number of county authorities secured an order, including Hampshire, Dorset, Devon, Gloucestershire, Warwickshire and Worcestershire.

The principal food of the little owl, according to Miss Hibbert-Ware, is insects, rats, mice, rabbits and voles. She praises it for "acting as a controlling factor in the plague of leather jackets during 1936."

The analysts' results were checked by a special committee, which included Dr. W. E. Collinge, Keeper of the Yorkshire Museum; J. C. F. Fryer, a Ministry of Agriculture laboratory director; and Mr. N. B. Kinnear, head of the Bird Section, British Museum.

The report concludes with the remark that the results coincide closely with those recorded 2,300 years ago by Aristotle.

LOCAL ESTATES

Robert John Hillier, Customs officer, late of flat No. 225, Embankment Building, Shanghai, who died on December 13, 1937, left local estate sworn under £3,300. Application by Edgar Davidson, solicitor, for sealing grant of probate of the will of the deceased has been granted by the Supreme Court.

Local estate to the value of $1,400 was left by James Morrison, marine engineer, of 22, Scochow, China Navigation Co., Ltd., who died at Tangku, North China, on December 27, 1936, domiciled in Scotland. Application by George Gwinnett Noble, solicitor, for sealing confirmation of a testamentary of the deceased has been granted.

Kan Yi Chi, spinster, late of San Chuen Village, Honam, Canton, who died intestate at the age of 52 on July 26, 1937, left local estate sworn at $1,000. Letters of administration to the estate of the deceased have been granted to Kan Lal Tin, ship chandler, of Nos. 51 and 52 Connaught Road Central.

THE KING AT THE ARSENALInterest In New Guns

(BY AIR MAIL)

The King, accompanied by commander Charles Lambie, R.N., paid a visit to the Royal Arsenal on February 16, states The Times. So far as the Arsenal authorities were concerned, the visit was no surprise; but the secret had been well kept.

A few minutes after 10.30 a.m. the Royal car unostentatiously entered the Arsenal. The King was met by Vice-Admiral Sir Harold Brown, Sir Reginald Townsend (Director of Ordnance Factories), and Mr. Francis Carnegie, Chief Superintendent of Ordnance Factories.

The King was first shown one of the new 3.7 anti-aircraft guns, in which he showed great interest. The features of the gun were briefly explained, and a demonstration given of the method of loading. There followed long visits to the machine factory and the heavy gun factory.

QUICK-FIRING GUN

From the heavy gun factory the inspection proceeded to the light gun factory, where the King's attention was particularly drawn to some naval quick-firing guns; these included a little two-pounder which looked more like a beautiful toy than an engine of destruction. Visits were next made to the small arms ordnance factory, where the mechanism for the assembly of the component parts of bullets and also a device for testing the weight and length of the bullets received special attention. Features of interest at other factories were a torpedo igniter, a steel converter which gave a miniature fireworks display, and various types of bomb moulds.

The King was cheered with enthusiasm at the factories which he visited, and a large crowd of employees gathered to wish him farewell after he had signed the visitors' book.

The first recorded visit of a Sovereign to the Arsenal was by George III in 1773. The first visit of George VI's reign will no doubt satisfy him, both from the point of view of the volume of work in hand, which calls for two shifts of workers, and from that of the spirit of the workers themselves, that the Arsenal is playing its part in the equipment of his Forces for any emergency which they may be called upon to face.

C.N.A.C. KEEPS OLD SCHEDULE

The loss of several parts for the new Douglas plane, which is now being assembled at Kai Tak, has made it necessary for the C.N.A.C. to keep to their old schedule.

There will be two planes on the Hong Kong-Chungking route and not three as previously announced, the local office of the C.N.A.C. reported yesterday.

Planes will leave for Chungking as usual on Mondays and Thursdays. The additional plane is expected to be placed on the route before the end of the month.

R.E.O.C.A. MEETING

The quarterly meeting of the R.E.O.C.A. was held at the N.C.O.'s Mess in Wellington Barracks, last night. The report and statement of accounts for the year ended December 31, 1937, were read by the secretary, Mr. H. C. Green, and adopted.

The secretary announced that membership had shown an increase of 120 new members since the beginning of the year.

JAPANESE FAIL TO WITHSTAND FLANK ATTACKS

TIENTSIN-PUKOW FRONT SITUATION

CHINESE TROOPS VERY ACTIVE

Shanghai, March 3.
TO THE SOUTH OF THE Tientsin-Pukow Railway and in the fighting zone along the Hwai River the situation has changed fundamentally in the last few days. Whereas Japanese reports merely declare that the situation as regards Japanese troops had not changed on the southern Tientsin-Pukow front, in reality Chinese troops in this sector have been extraordinarily active.

WORKING FROM THE TOWN of Luchow in Anwei province as the base of operations the Chinese troops have advanced eastward on the Tientsin-Pukow Railway and making violent flank attacks, have driven back the Japanese troops along the railway there.

According to reports received this morning fighting has taken place chiefly at Changpollin in the immediate vicinity of the Tientsin-Pukow Railway, 90 kilometres south of Pengu; also to the east of the railway line.

The Japanese were unable to withstand these flank attacks and were forced to retreat to the Tientsin-Pukow Railway to lose the positions they held several weeks ago.

Whereas some time ago Japanese reports spoke of Japanese troops being as far advanced as Kusheng, 40 kilometres north of Pengu, it now turns out that fighting is no longer going on on the northern bank of the Hwai River but on the south bank a few kilometres north of Pengu which at the present moment is still held by the Japanese.

The Chinese forces are pressing in from the west from Changpollin and Lalan, south of Pengu, as the Japanese report today admits. Changpollin lies about halfway between Nanking and Pengu.

If the Chinese should succeed in breaking the Japanese lines at this point they would cut off the Japanese troops at Pengu from their base in Nanking. (Transocean).

SWINTON TO SUCCEED HALIFAX

Hore-Belisha For Air Post?

London, Mar. 3.

The appointment of the present Secretary of State for Air, Viscount Swinton, as Lord President of the Council, in succession to Lord Halifax, who has been appointed Foreign Secretary, is predicted this morning in both the Daily Express and the Daily Mail.

Mr. Hore-Belisha.

Both papers count upon Lord Halifax not holding office as Foreign Secretary merely during the period of the Anglo-Italian negotiations, but retaining it for a longer period.

The present Secretary of State for War, Mr. Leslie Hore-Belisha, is mentioned as the successor to Viscount Swinton. (Transocean).

DELPHINUS INCIDENT NOW CLOSED

London, Mar. 2.

The incident arising out of the alleged firing by Japanese warcraft on an Imperial Airways plane Delphinus, while the latter was travelling from Penang to Hong Kong on February 21 is considered closed in official circles in London.

It was perhaps an overstatement to call the explanation made by the Japanese Consul-General in Hong Kong an apology, but this was the interpretation originally placed on it. (Reuter).

VARIABLE WEATHER IN FEBRUARY

Temperature Slightly Above Normal

The weather during the month was very variable, and showed some unusual features. From the 1st to the 6th cloudy skies prevailed, with occasional drizzle. Temperature was slightly above normal.

A spell of cold weather with almost continuous rain or drizzle, set in on the 6th, and culminated in a thunderstorm on the morning of the 13th. A sudden clearance followed, and the afternoon of the 13th was exceptionally fine and clear.

From the 14th to the 20th the weather was variable, with some sunny periods and occasional drizzle. On the 21st the weather cleared and remained fine with almost unbroken sunshine for the rest of the month. A week of sunny weather is most unusual in February.

The mean temperature for the month was 58.8 deg. F., which is normal. A maximum of 77.6 deg. was recorded on the 16th, and a minimum of 47.2 deg. on the 8th. The mean relative humidity was 80 per cent., against a normal of 79 per cent.

Sunshine amounted to 104 hours, which is 9 hours in excess of normal. The daily total exceeded 10 hours on the last 6 days of the month.

The month was the wettest February since 1922, the total rainfall being 4.66 inches, which is 2.03 ins. greater than normal.

The maximum wind velocity in a gust was 44 m.p.h., recorded at noon on the 6th.

ROOF LOTTERY

Convicted on the charge of loitering on the roof of No. 50 Morrison Hill Road on Wednesday night, Pang Hoi, 20, was remanded 24 hours by Mr. R. A. D. Forrest at the Central Magistracy yesterday in order that he might find a guarantor for his future good behaviour.

SENSATIONAL MOSCOW TRIAL REVELATIONS

HIGH OFFICIALS SAID TO HAVE PLOTTED TO THROW COUNTRY INTO DISASTROUS WAR

REMARKABLE CONFESSIONS

Moscow, March 2.

The indictment at the trial of 21 Soviet leaders, which opened today, was very lengthy and full of the most extraordinary allegations.

For example, it says that the accused, Bukharin, testified that Karl Radek told him in 1934 that Trotsky considered that the principal chance of a bloc, formed by the Rightists and Trotskyists coming to power, was the defeat of the Soviets in a war with Germany and Japan, and that Trotsky proposed, after this defeat, to surrender the Ukraine to Germany and the Far East to Japan.

The accused, Khodjaver, was said to have testified that Bukharin urged that Uzbekistan and Turkmenia should be separated from the Soviets and become protectorates of Japan and Germany.

The indictment declares that the accused not only planned to open the Soviet fronts to the Fascist armies in a time of war, but had also prepared to undermine the defence industries, wreck troop trains and paralyse the entire economic life of the country as well as food and ammunition supplies for the army.

The accused, Krestinsky, was said to have testified that a number of acts of diversion committed in the Far East were carried out by participants in the anti-Soviet plot, or on the direct instructions of the Japanese intelligence service.

For example, a military freight train was wrecked at Volonayevka, when 21 persons were killed and 45 injured.

The indictment alleges that Maxim Gorky and other prominent Soviet leaders were victims of a plot to "liquidate" the Soviet leaders in order to facilitate the defeat of the Soviet in war.

Deep silence reigned in court when Vishinski ended reading out the charges. Then Mulrich, president of the military tribunal sitting in judgment, began to ask each accused in turn whether he admitted his guilt. Nineteen of the accused replied in the affirmative. Bukharin pleaded guilty in a statement which he had drawn up.

Krestinsky DENIES Krestinsky, the former deputy Commissar for Foreign Affairs, however, replied with a firm "no." He was pale as death as he faced his accusers and shouted, "I am no Trotskyist! I am no criminal! I have never had anything to do with the intelligence services of foreign powers!"

Krestinsky's outburst took the court by surprise, as a substantial part of the charges is based on his own admissions.

Krestinsky further told the court that he retracted all the statements made by him, during the preliminary examination, insisting that he had made them under compulsion.

Immediately after this sensational incident occurred the court adjourned. (Transocean).

TRIAL CONTINUED Moscow, Mar. 3.

Following a brief interruption when the former deputy Foreign Commissar Krestinsky withdrew his confession, the trial was continued on yesterday afternoon with the cross-examination of the former Councillor of the Berlin Embassy, Bessonoff.

Bessonoff admitted that he was chief liaison officer between Trotsky and the latter's followers in Russia. Pyatakov and Krestinsky.

When the prosecutor asked whether these assertions were true, Krestinsky answered, "Bessonoff's assertions are untrue."

BRIBED FOR ESPIONAGE When the prosecutor pointed out that his statements were at variance with the confession made before the trial opened, Krestinsky said, "I did not make those statements voluntarily. I confessed in order to be able to tell the truth at the trial."

The next accused to be questioned was the former Finance Commissar Grinko, who made a lengthy confession corroborating all charges in the indictment. He admitted that he was responsible for all deficiencies in the Soviet financial system.

The last accused examined yesterday was the former Commissar for Agriculture, Chernoff, who likewise admitted his guilt. Besides admitting sabotage on a large scale, he admitted having been bribed for espionage. (Transocean).

FILING OF SHARES Before the Chief Justice, Sir Atholl MacGregor, in the Supreme Court yesterday, the Organic Fertilizer Co. Ltd., brought an application for an extension of time to file the return of an allotment of shares.

Mr. H. C. Macnamara, instructed by Mr. W. M. Brown, on behalf of the applicants, said that owing to inadvertence his clients had failed to file the return which should have been made in January, 1936.

His Lordship ordered that the return be filed within seven days.

BENCH GIVES CHANCE A chance was given to a returned banished, Wan Ching, aged 32, when he was charged before Mr. R. A. D. Forrest at Central Magistracy yesterday.

He was only five months short of completing his term of the five years and as Sergeant Jessop said there was a possibility he might have miscalculated his time. His Worship accepted defendant's promise not to stay away from the Colony till his time had expired. Defendant was cautioned.

Franco's London Agent Hastens Assurances

London, Mar. 3.

The Duke of Alba, General Franco's London agent, yesterday handed a note to the Foreign Office which gives an authentic text of the speech delivered by General Queipo de Llano in which the General referred to Gibraltar.

It was not until after the Napoleonic War that Germany realised the importance of education, declared Professor L. Forster in a lecture entitled "Education and the State" given at the European Y.M.C.A. at Kowloon last night. The speaker was introduced by the Chairman, Professor R. Robertson.

It was generally agreed that the national scheme of education bore fruit in 1870 when German arms triumphed at Sedan, and gave Germany her dominant position in the mainland of Europe until 1918, said Prof. Forster. Failure in the Great War had forced her once again to review her national system, and brought about those changes which guaranteed her security against future enemies.

It was the fear of future wars and the memory of defeat that dominated the motive behind the educational policy of Germany today.

In England the municipalities jealously guarded their schools and only permitted the Government to inspect and advise but not to dictate and to unify.

Education in the United States is chiefly encouraged by the Government, and yearly the authorities devote a large portion of its revenue to the support of universities and other educational facilities, said the lecturer.

In China the growth of a national consciousness, the gradual extension of educational facilities to the peasant and industrial group, the rapid growth of universities and schools had just begun to emerge before the outbreak of the present war.

Education, therefore, is to give the individual a wider view of life and the state a collective interest, to call upon its youth in time of war.

Cabinet Decides Basis For Anglo-Italian Talks

MEDITERRANEAN AND AFRICAN QUESTIONS IN THE FOREFRONT

London, March 3.

Guiding principles for the impending Anglo-Italian negotiations were decided and approved by the British Cabinet at its regular session yesterday.

Lord Perth will return to Rome at the end of the week and it is generally expected here that the talks will open in the early part of the ensuing week.

Even if the initial contacts succeed in opening up a prospect of an ultimate agreement there still remains the likelihood of negotiations dragging on until the end of April.

According to the Star, the programme of negotiations will include the question of Italy's air and territorial forces in Libya, the fortification of certain Italian islands in the Mediterranean and

TSUI BROTHERS IMPRESSIVE

FAVoured TO REACH DOUBLES FINAL

Paul Kong Also Plays Finely

By F. Mela

Paul Kong, the former Chinese Davis Cup player and one of the leading exponents of the game from the Chinese Recreation Club, gave further proof that his game has improved 100 per cent since the last tournament when he beat Y. C. Lau by scores of 6-2, 6-1 in the open singles tennis championship on the Hong Kong Cricket Club courts yesterday.

The best game of the evening, however, was the doubles encounter between the Tsui brothers, favoured to reach the finals in this event, and Ng Kam-chuen and Choy Ping-fan. The brothers won by straight sets, 6-2, 6-2, but the exchanges were more even than the scores would lead one to believe. Choy, in particular, played a very stout-hearted game and brought off many a fine shot.

The Tsui brothers are playing much better tennis than they have done for a long time and it was evident that the experience the elder Tsui gained from the Olympics and his European tour has brought out more in him than all the years of practice previously had done. His stroke production was well-nigh faultless and one of two of his backhand retrieves bordered on the uncanny.

YAN PUI ALSO IMPROVED

Young Tsui has also improved beyond recognition though he still suffers from the weakness of trying to win a point in too much of a hurry. The only fault I could find with him yesterday was in this connection and if he would only settle down to play steady tennis he should go very far in the singles event.

So far as Wat-pui is concerned I do not think, on yesterday's form, there is anybody here to touch him. He brought off some very fine "volley lobs" and scored a number of points with this stroke, executed from almost the baseline.

Ng and Choy need not feel discouraged by their defeat for they lost to a pair who will probably reach the final and who, I make bold to predict, might even win the title.

PAUL KONG'S SERVICE

The strongest point about Paul Kong yesterday was his service. It was always reliable and one or two that he sent over were outright aces. If he can produce this every time he plays he should go far. He is due to meet Leonard, who beat Wong Fuk-nam yesterday, in the next round and from what I saw of these two players Kong should have no difficulty in winning.

Leonard does not appear to have got over his impatience with the umpire yet, despite his many years of experience in open championship tennis. Yesterday for instance, he questioned several of the umpire's decisions. That rather puts the umpire off his stride in addition to not being what one would call good form.

FORMER CHAMPION WINS

M. W. Lo, who some years ago won the singles title from Sirdar Rumjahn, made short work of Firdos Khan and showed that he is still a force to be reckoned with. He was very sure about his shots which he placed with the judgment that is only acquired after years of match play.

Paul Kong. He is much improved.

Lee Wal-tong, who two days ago played an impressive game at doubles with Paul Kong, beat S. A. Gray by 6-1, 6-2 but despite the score the game was well worth watching as it produced some really good tennis. Neither player was afraid to hit the ball and as a result several very fine hard-hitting rallies were seen.

RESULTS

Results of yesterday's games were:—

OPEN SINGLES

F. H. Kwok beat H. Chan, 6-4, 6-2

J. W. Leonard beat Wong Fuk-nam, 7-5, 6-1

Paul Kong beat Y. C. Lau, 6-2, 6-1

M. W. Lo beat Firdos Khan, 6-1, 6-2

Lee Wal-tong beat S. A. Gray, 6-1, 6-2

OPEN DOUBLES

I. Agafuroff and J. Pengelly beat T. E. Whible and J. A. H. Douglas, 6-0, 6-1

Major L. A. Newham and Major F. T. Barnes beat Comdr. Rump and Leut. Watt, 6-3, 6-4

Tsui Wal-pui and Tsui Yan-pui beat Ng Kam-chuen and Choy Ping-fan, 6-2, 6-2

A. V. Gosano and A. V. Remedios beat N. W. Dimsey and P. Delaney, 6-1, 6-1

NAVAL HOCKEY

Thracian's Easy Win Over Phoenix

Fielding a rather weak side, H. M. S. Phoenix was beaten by four clear goals by H. M. S. Thracian in a friendly hockey match at Happy Valley yesterday.

Main feature of the match was some fine shooting by P. O. Brevan, who netted three times and came near to scoring on numerous other occasions.

The Thracian established a two-nil lead in the first half and added their fourth five minutes from time. Shanks was the other scorer.

Teams:—

H. M. S. Thracian. — Crews: Lt. Dayrall, Copplestone, Britnell, Polkinghorne, Wilson, Brevan, Nichols, Hodgins, Brickley and Shanks.

H. M. S. Phoenix. — Colman, Banks, Warren, Mitchell, S. Lt. Ogle, Gardner, East, Nicholson, Longstaff, Lt. Wilmet and Thompson. Referee: P. O. Willis.

RUGBY

Seven-A-Side Tourney

The second series of matches in the Seven-A-Side Rugby Tournament was played at Happy Valley yesterday, with the following results:—

Malayan Prince beat Seaforths "C" 5-0;

Middlesex "A" beat Middlesex "B" 11-0;

Royal Scots beat Malayan Prince 6-3;

Club beat Police 13-3;

Civil Service beat the R.E. 13-0;

Seaforths "A" beat Butterfield and Swire 9-0;

Seaforths "B" beat Hong Kong Bank 5-3.

TABLE TENNIS

A return match has been arranged between Szabados and Pun Sal On on Saturday in the China Emporium Ballroom and those who saw the last encounter between these two players when the Chinese won by two straight sets should make it a point to attend as a great game is promised. Szabados will play against Kelen in an exhibition match and tickets at $2, $1 and 50 cents may be obtained from Mr. Yee King Kwong of Messrs. Kelly and Company, No. 11, Queen's Road Central.

Yesterday the two Hungarian stars gave another fine exhibition at the King's Theatre.

BRAWN CUP

The C.B.S. proved to be the better team when they defeated the Seaforth Ladies in a Brawn Cup hockey fixture by the only goal scored on the C.B.A. ground yesterday.

The Seaforth Ladies lacked combination in their forward line. The Schoolgirls' defence was good and their forwards combined well.

Towards the end of the game, Miss P. Turnbull netted for the winners.

SIGNALS WIN

In a friendly hockey game on the Chatham Road ground yesterday, the Royal Corps of Signals defeated a Combined Military Hospitals XI by one goal to nil. Payne netted for the winners.

FANLING HUNT

Large Crowd At Potts Bungalow

By Jack Spraggan

A very large crowd turned up when hounds met at Potts Bungalow last Sunday. Mr. Watson was at home and after partaking of his excellent refreshment we moved off to the first draw.

Mee Cheung had in the meantime been busy with his cameras and a cap for the benefit of the kennel staff had been taken.

Hounds picked up a line at the foot of Potts Lookout ran straight to the River Beas and then along the foothills to Stony Pass, here they turned left and recrossed the Beas, skirted the Golf Course and came up with the fox (Alec Potts) at the back of Potts Bungalow—hounds hunted extremely well in spite of the somewhat hot weather—the foot-followers were in luck as they were able to get a view of practically the whole run from the top of the Lookout.

A second line was picked up on the Golf course side of the Lookout—hounds skirted the golf course ran round the pig farm and came up to their fox about a mile south of the Volunteer camp.

This run was short but hounds hunted at a rare pace and everyone voted they'd had enough so off we jogged home after yet another day's good hunting.

TRIAL HOCKEY MATCH

The R.A.F. team was defeated by England's International Tournament trial team in a friendly hockey match on the Y.M.C.A. ground yesterday by three goals to nil.

England were short of two of their original players, Howlett and Brown, but this did not prevent them from winning the game which they well deserved, after showing good combination in their forward line.

S. Fowler, Dunne and V. Bond scored for England.

CLUB TEAMS

The following are the H.K.C.C. teams for tomorrow. The 1st XI will meet the I.R.C. at Sookunpoo and the 2nd XI the University at H.K.C.C.:—

DOCKYARD POLICE WIN

In a friendly hockey match at King's Park yesterday, the Royal Naval Dockyard Police defeated a team from the C.P.O.'s Course, Kowloon, by two goals to nil.

P. C. Fox scored the first goal for the winners and Indian P.C.70 repeated shortly after. Both goals were scored in the second half.

HOME FOOTBALL

London, Mar. 2.

Charlton's position in the First Division of the English Football League improved somewhat today when, playing at home, they defeated Stoke by three goals to nil.

In the Second Division, Stockport, at home, lost to Newcastle by 3-1.—(Reuter).

NEW RESEARCH IN PREVENTIVE MEDICINE

PREMIER REVEALS £8,000 DONATION

A new line of research in preventive medicine was revealed by the Prime Minister, Mr. Chamberlain, recently, when, as chairman of the Court of Governors, he presided at the annual meeting of the London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine.

He stated that Imperial Chemical Industries had undertaken to provide £2,000 a year, for four years, towards the special fund established in aid of the School's research into chemical immunity.

"The object of this research," he said, "is to isolate from the dead bodies of organisms which cause a number of diseases, including whooping cough, typhoid, cholera and puerperal fever, those chemical constituents which can be injected into living persons and give them immunity without disagreeable or injurious reactions."

"It is a work which gives great promise, and if it is as successful as its promoters hope, it may give us a real advance in preventive medicine. There is reason to hope that it will be successful."

COMMERCIAL CO-OPERATION
"It will represent an advance in preventive medicine comparable with the pure standardised drugs such as we get today in place of the old concoctions and crude suspensions."

"The agreement between the School and Imperial Chemical Industries is of interest not only because it will provide a valuable addition to the funds available for the research. It also marks an effort on the part of the School to cooperate with commercial organisations in carrying over the results of those researches from the laboratory to the stage of large-scale manufacture and practical application."

The Prime Minister, at the beginning of his speech, paid tribute to his brother, the late Sir Austen Chamberlain, whom he succeeded as chairman.

"As this is the first time," he said, "that I have appeared before you in this capacity, I should like to say how very greatly I appreciate the compliment paid to me in asking me to succeed my brother."

EXCEPTIONAL CIRCUMSTANCES
"I should think that even the most inexperienced of statesmen would hesitate before taking on fresh liabilities, however nominal, just at a moment when he became Prime Minister. The circumstances in this case were, however, exceptional."

MADE HITLER LAUGH

A clown who made Hitler laugh has returned to Paris. This is the proudest memory M. Baby, famous under the name Auguste, has of his successful season just concluded in Berlin. Herr Hitler attended the first night on which Auguste played at the Wintergarten in the German capital.

His act, in the tradition of pure clowning, includes the smashing of chairs, violins and "business" with a piano which caused the Fuehrer to throw up his hands in pleasure.

Afterwards Herr Hitler sent a message to Auguste: "You can tell this gentleman that he really did make me laugh."

So much that is beautiful and romantic awaits you in Austria: Vienna—the world's music centre; Salzburg—the festival city; the Styrian woodlands; the beautiful Danube valley; the lakes of Salzburg, Merano and Carinthia; the Tyrol and Vorarlberg—lands of picturesque peasants and snow-capped mountains; and the lovely landscapes of Lower and Upper Austria. Both for Summer Holidays (Golf, Tennis, Swimming, Climbing, etc.) and for Winter Sports, Austria has become more popular than ever. Come to Austria at any time of the year—you may be sure of a kindly welcome.

Foreign Governments Choose British Vehicles

The Brazilian War Office has ordered twelve medium duty cross-country rigid 6-wheeled vehicles from John I. Thornycroft & Co. Ltd., through the branch company in Rio de Janeiro.

These chassis incorporate the well known Thornycroft 4-cylinder oil engine with a bore and stroke of 4 1/2 in. by 6 in., and developing up to 85 B.H.P. at 2,200 r.p.m. Other features include an auxiliary gearbox, providing a further reduction to the main ratios of 2.3, and a patented system of rear axle suspension enabling either axle to tilt to an angle of 15 deg. The chassis will be fitted with locally made military type bodies with power operated winches for hauling guns.

The Argentine War Office has also acquired a large number of heavy duty cross-country rigid 6-wheeled vehicles, following the success of an earlier batch of military vehicles for gun haulage supplied last year. In the latest order, however, the chassis are of six tons net load capacity, and the power unit is a 6-cylinder petrol engine with overhead valves. With a bore and stroke of 4 1/2 in. by 5 1/2 in., a maximum power output of 106 B.H.P. is obtained at 2,200 r.p.m.

Many other Government orders are in hand at the present time, totalling several hundred machines.

ASAMA MARU

Vessel Will Be Refloated Soon

The N.Y.K. liner Asama Maru which went ashore during the typhoon on September 2 last, is now ready to be refloated and salvage workers are awaiting a favourable tide. It is expected that at high tide on March 13 the vessel will be refloated.

It was only until recently that divers have been successful in blasting away the rocks from under the ship. It is estimated that the cost of the operations with repairs in addition will amount to $4,000,000.

"FALSE" FINGER-PRINTS

Man Shows How They Can Be Copied

A man accused at Croydon Quarter Sessions recently of breaking into Purleybury Lawn Tennis Club pavilion and stealing goods worth £7 10s demonstrated to the Bench how finger-prints could be "simulated."

He was David Pearce, 30, of Southsea-road, Croydon, and he was found not guilty and discharged.

Pearce denied that a finger print found on the neck of a bottle was his. He produced a small mirror and first pressed a pad of some plastic substance against a prison officer's finger. Then he pressed the pad on a mirror.

"That," he said, "is a finger print of this officer and his finger has not touched the mirror."

He said he had experimented with a mixture which could be spread on a door handle or stair rail, or on any place which a person whose prints were wanted would be likely to touch.

FRENCH POLICE "BAFFLED"
He claimed he had placed the mixture on the back of gloves and secured the finger impression of a man without his knowledge by shaking hands. Anyone with criminal intentions, he declared, could obtain fingerprints and put them on a safe at a "job" where the police would find them.

When Det.-Serg. Livings said that Pearce's suggestions were fantastic, and that any print made as described by him would immediately be detected by an expert, Pearce replied that the French police were "absolutely baffled" by the method he had described.

The prosecution called a man who swore that Pearce was with him when the robbery was committed. This witness had been sentenced on three charges after 27 other cases had been taken into consideration, including the offence with which Pearce was alleged to be concerned.

The jury held that the evidence was not sufficient to convict Pearce.

BRICKLAYERS IN BURGLARY

Sentenced For Lockhart Road Crime

Two unemployed bricklayers, Lo Kuen, 25, and Szeto Chi, 40, appeared before Mr. R. A. D. Forrest at the Central Magistracy yesterday charged in connection with a burglary at No. 84 Lockhart Road, ground floor, on February 23. The first man was accused of burglary and stealing two pieces of cloth, property of one Pun Ching-ye, while the other was charged with aiding and abetting and with using violence on complainant's servant.

Lo was sentenced to three months' hard labour and Szeto to a total of nine months. Detective Sub-Inspector W. N. Darkin prosecuted.

CONTRACTOR AND COOLIE FIGHT

When Ng Chung, a sub-contractor, remonstrated with Cheung Hing, an earth coolie, over the poor quality of the latter's work, words ensued and ended in a fight in the street.

Brought before Mr. R. A. D. Forrest at Central Magistracy yesterday charged with disorderly conduct, each of them was bound over in the sum of $10 for 12 months.

BROUGHT DOG INTO THE COLONY

A charge of importing a brown chow dog into the Colony was preferred against Kwan Tai, 57, when he appeared before Mr. E. Edwards at the Central Court yesterday.

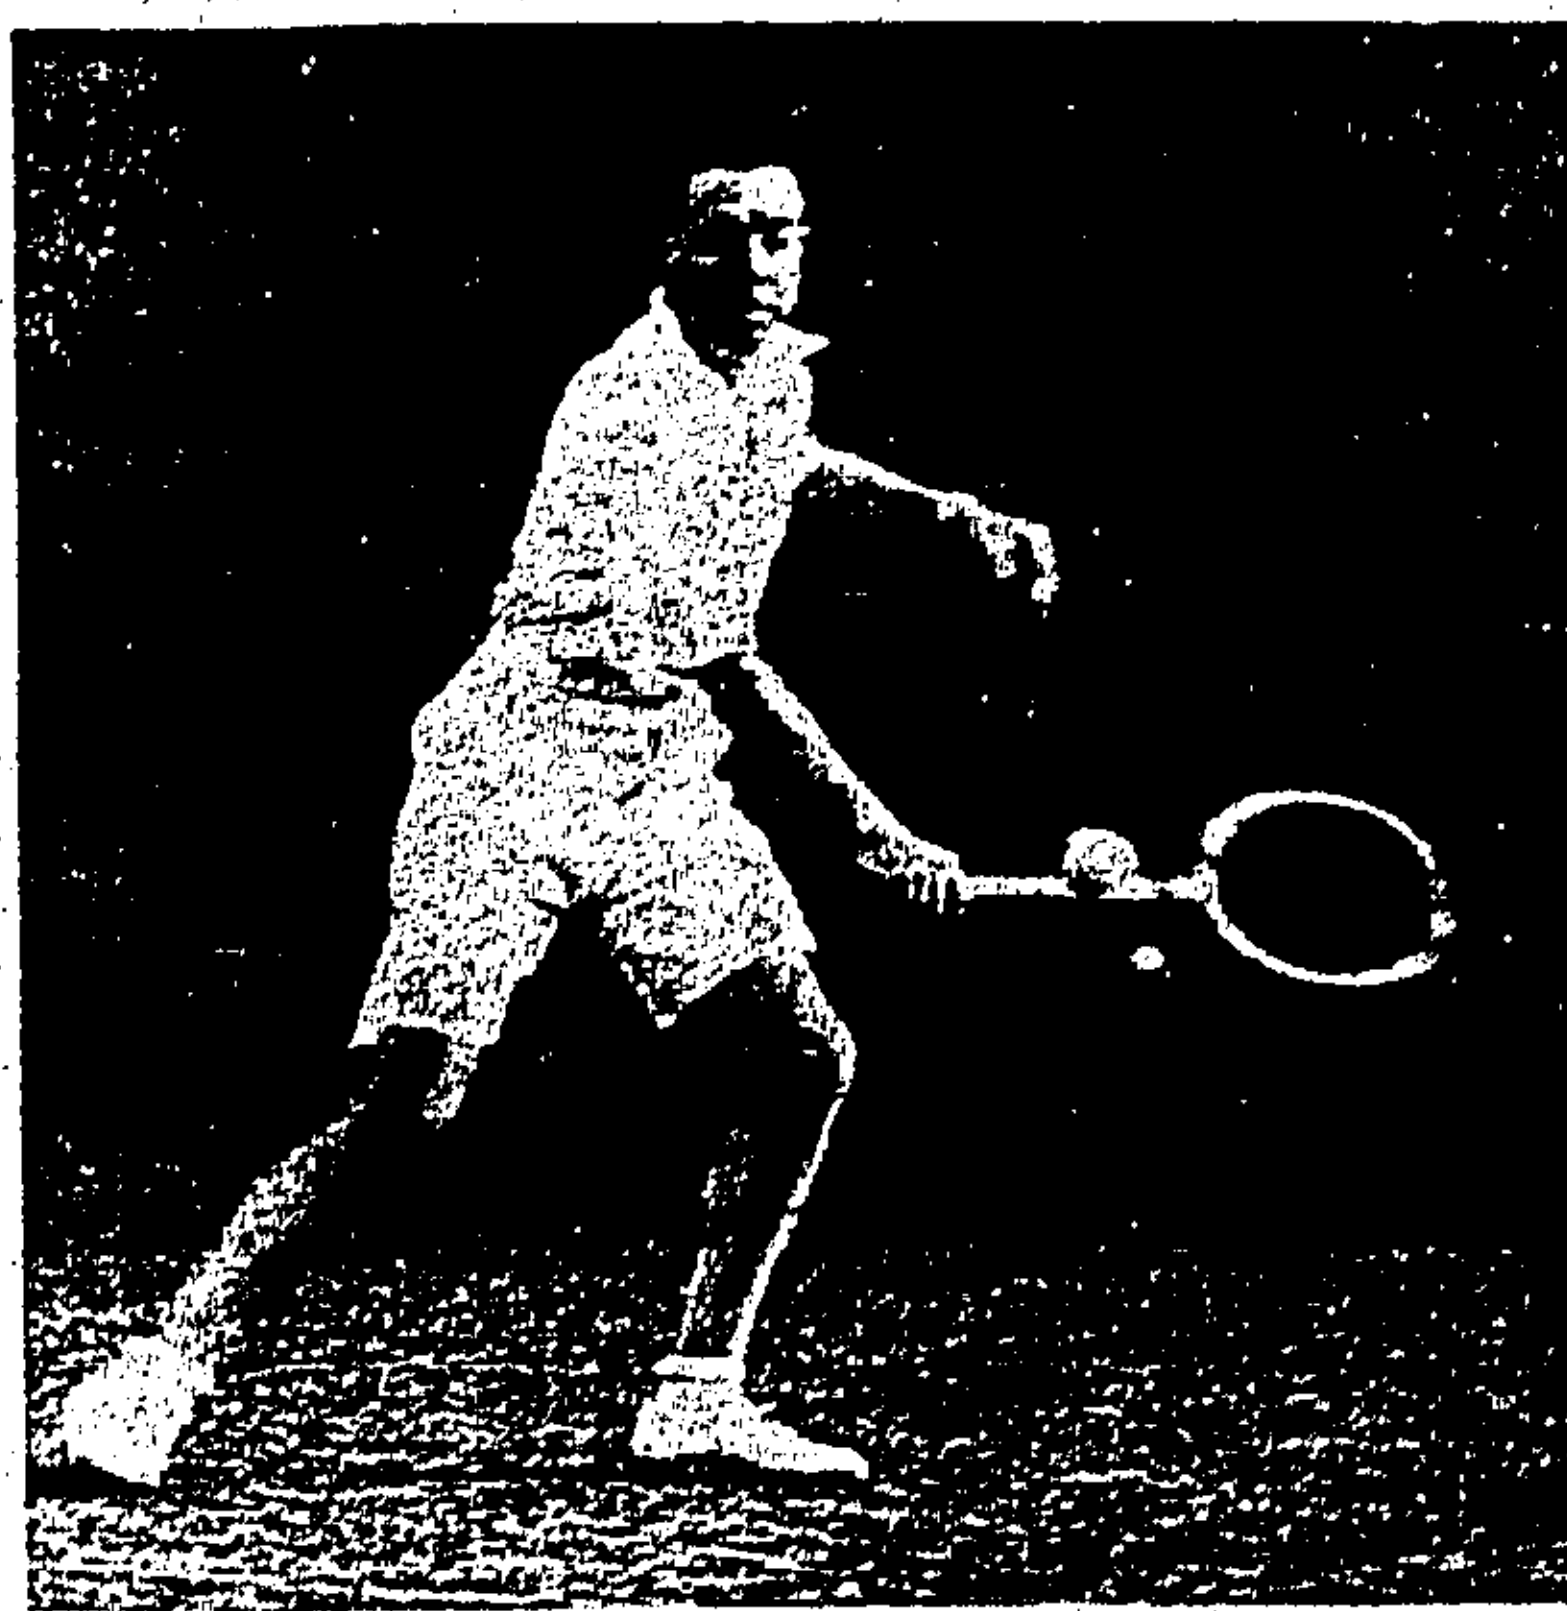

Kwan admitted the charge and was remanded for 24 hours in order that the police could ascertain from the Colonial Veterinary Surgeon whether the dog could be taken away. Acting Sub-Inspector Baysting prosecuted.

SNATCHER GAOLED

Sentence of nine months' hard labour and eight strokes of the cane was imposed on Tam Choi, 21, unemployed, when he appeared on remand before Mr. R. A. D. Forrest at Central Magistracy yesterday on charges of snatching a pair of gold earrings from an old woman, and returning from banishment.

He was arrested by Detective A. Ghani, of the Special Branch, C.I.D., on Monday, after a chase.

News has been received in Hong Kong of the success with honours of Miss Grace Ellis, daughter of Mr. E. R. Ellis of the Hong Kong Daily Press, in the advanced junior division of the Trinity College of Music. Miss Ellis is schooling in Perth, Western Australia.
